

DELIVERANCE and GENERATIONAL CURSES

Once a person is saved they need to undergo a deliverance process. Yes Pastor, God has taught me a lot on deliverance what I did not know. I also thought once one is saved all is broken. But I was still wondering why many are saved but still are bound. Until God revealed this is when I started to see change in my life and other peoples lives. Pastor, the spiritual world has a lot we don't know yet until it is revealed by the Holy Spirit.

At times some people take time to be delivered and others it happens at once.

Some people have opened doorways in their lives because of sin, evil acts they got involved in, people they associate with, immorality, occult activities, wrong churches they attend, unforgiveness, abused etc. As long as the door ways are not closed by the person repenting and close it by the blood of Jesus, deliverance cannot take place.

So in cases where demons don't want to leave or keep on coming, what I do is to have dialogue with the person and dig into his or her past and current life. With the help of the Holy Spirit you can discern the door ways demons and satan uses to get hold on the person. At times people are in possession of demonic items or were initiated to devils all this must be destroyed and evil spirits behind them bound.

And in some cases you need to stop and have some time to pray and fast then cast out the evil spirits. But above all you follow the leading of the Holy Spirit. Ensure that the person repents and confesses Christ i.e get born again by accepting Christ through making a declaration prayer.

If you are living in bitterness and unforgiveness, deliverance cannot occur fully. The devil uses this as a legal doorway. Please sit with this person and have dialogue to dig in her past life.

I deal with demons here a lot and have learned it with time and am still learning from the Holy Spirit. I used to fail a lot to cast them out in the beginning but with time God taught me how to do it and have continued to see many delivered. Even now not all people possessed by demons get delivered so I don't struggle with it or get discouraged. I keep moving on because its Gods work not mine. Do what you are capable of but leave the rest to God.

GENERATIONAL CURSES

About generational curses, from my personal experience in salvation and some of the people I have handled in deliverance, generational curses still follow even when one is born again.

What our parents and forefathers did opened door ways for curses to follow generations. And unless one digs into his or her back ground and repents and disconnects oneself, close those doorways by the blood of Jesus, curses will keep on following.

The Bible says in Hosea 4:6 " My people perish for lack of knowledge". We need to sit under the Holy Spirit to be taught regarding each situation we or people are going through. One time, was handling a lady who always just felt to commit suicide any time she was upset. I tried to pray , fast and bind satan in her life but it didn't work. So one day I was led in the spirit to sit down with her and started to dig into her background. I came to discover that her great grandmother committed suicide and that is where the curse started. From there several others in their blood stream had committed suicide. I have testimonies of so many cases and have witnesed where one is saved but still curses are following them. Some sufferings, divorce, premature deaths, sicknesses, poverty, failures, madness, barreness, marriage problems etc. is due to generational curses.

Now just as Jesus is our Healer, a saved person can get sick. But to be healed must have knowledge that By His stripes we are healed. In the same way He took our curses upon Himself which means generational curses or any other curse can follow a saved person. But one must first come to the knowledge that Jesus died to take upon Himself our curses. The Bible says we will know the TRUTH and it will set us free. And if you don't know that truth you perish. Pastor, there are some truths regarding our generational line whether good or evil that one must dig and know. And unless a christian deals with it there will be a struggle or failure in their christianity.

Let me give a testimony of one Pastor friend. He invited me to preach in his church the year 2011. This Pastor had had a very difficult life since childhood. He was born out of wedlock and nobody was ready to assist him. He got saved and entered into ministry but for many years the church could not grow. When I met him he was planning to run away and leave that church because the people there did want him and nobody was coming to the church. After I preached we had a worship and prayer session and the Holy Spirit told me the father to this Pastor denied, cursed, and rejected him as his son. When I told him that he went on his knees deeply weeping saying it was true. What he explained to me pastor, it was really touching , it was a generational problem. His father's curse and rejection caused people to reject him and for him to suffer in life and ministry and yet he was born again. I broke the curse and asked God to bless him and to his surprise the church picked up and now he has over 80 members and has opened other church branches.

Being in a Muslim area has also helped me to learn a lot about deliverance. You see muslims believe a lot in demonic activities and witchcraft. I have witnessed christians and even pastors here killed by these Muslims evil spirits. But let me tell you Jesus is powerful. I have seen Him do wonders in this land. Some muslims here hate me and even don't greet me. Sometimes they send deadly attacks but God delivers me.
